One brand, told the same way everywhere.

People meet HumanRise in many places: a vacancy on LinkedIn, a phone call about a disciplinary hearing, a workshop, a partner’s website. Each of those moments should feel like the same warm, capable team. This guide shows how.

Who this guide is for

OUR TEAM

Consultants, recruiters, trainers and admin

Writing job ads, emails, proposals, social posts and course material.

MAKERS

Designers, developers, printers and agencies

Building the website, artwork, signage, merchandise and templates.

PARTNERS

Partners, clients, venues and media

Mentioning, linking to or co-branding with HumanRise. Chapter 10 is written for you.

How to use it

Start with Our story. It explains why the brand looks and sounds the way it does, and every rule after it follows from that. Chapters 03 to 08 are the building blocks. Chapter 09 shows them put together on real items, and chapter 11 is a checklist to run before anything goes out.

If something isn’t covered, choose the option that feels most human, most clear and most honest. Then ask us at info@humanrise.co.za so we can add it to the next version.

Hiring is about people, not paperwork.

HumanRise started with a simple belief: hiring is about people, not paperwork.

Behind every CV is a person with ambitions. Behind every vacancy is a team trying to grow. Too often the process between them is rushed and impersonal. Good people are filtered out before anyone has spoken to them, and businesses pay for it with hires that don't last.

We do it differently. We listen first. We match on skills and on fit. We take care of the HR and compliance detail so owners and managers can get back to running their business. We use modern tools, AI included, to work faster and more carefully, and a person always makes the call.

Our name says what we do. Human, because people come first. Rise, because our work is about helping people and teams go further than they thought they could. Our promise sits underneath it: Overcoming Limits.

PURPOSE · WHY WE EXIST

To help people and teams overcome their limits.

MISSION · WHAT WE DO

We connect great businesses with great people, and give both the HR support, training and guidance they need to grow.

PROMISE · OUR TAGLINE

Overcoming Limits.

The idea in the logo

Read our logo slowly and it tells the whole story. Every detail was drawn on purpose.

1 “Hum” starts soft

Lowercase, approachable, in Human Lavender. This is the person as they are today, standing on the line.

3 After the star, the “n” rises

It lifts off the baseline (dashed line) and turns vivid purple. Meet your potential and you rise. It also echoes the rising I below.

5 The I breaks through

The darkest letter lifts off the baseline and breaks through the top line of the word. It is the individual rising and a ceiling broken. It is Overcoming Limits, drawn.

2 The star takes the place of the “a”

Hand-drawn, because we are people: imperfect, and we fit in. A star, because everyone has the potential to be among the greatest. Your potential is full and great.

4 RISE in capitals

Larger and stronger than “Human”. RISE is the outcome we reach together, and a call to act: rise up.

A+I Two changed letters spell AI

The only letters we redrew are the A (the star) and the I. Together they say we are forward-thinking and use AI usefully and safely, in our own way. The human star comes first.

The colour flows like a career

Purple is new, fun and creative. Blue is trust, experience and stability. Read the logo top to bottom and the colour moves from soft lavender, to vivid purple, into blue and finally the deepest blue of the rising I. It grows and flows the way a career does.

Human Lavender Starting out	Star Purple Potential, energy	Rise Blue Growing in trust	Deep Rise Experience, stability
New · fun · creative		Trust · experience · stability

Human-led. AI-assisted.

The A and the I in our logo are a promise about technology. We use AI where it makes us faster, fairer and more careful: sorting applications, drafting documents, scheduling, spotting patterns. People make the decisions that affect people. This is how we keep our website promise that “a real consultant, not a bot” reviews every CV.

A person makes the call

A HumanRise consultant reviews every CV, shortlist and HR recommendation. AI supports that work and never replaces it.

We’re open about it

When AI plays a part in a process that affects someone, we say so in plain language.

Data stays protected

We only use tools that meet our POPIA obligations, and we keep personal information out of tools that don’t.

This also keeps us in line with section 71 of POPIA, which limits decisions about a person that are based solely on automated processing.

What we stand for

People first

We treat candidates and clients as people, not transactions, with honesty at every step.

Shows up as: real conversations before shortlists, plain-language updates and a consultant on every CV.

Fit over filling

The right match beats a fast one. We aim for retention, not just placement count.

Shows up as: skills and culture-fit matching, psychometric testing, and checking in well beyond day one.

Compliance built in

POPIA-ready processes and ethical data handling are part of how we work from the start.

Shows up as: consent on every form, lawful and fair disciplinary processes, and accredited training where it counts.

Practical & affordable

Advice that works in a real business, at a price a small team can manage.

Shows up as: clear quotes, SMME-friendly options and no jargon.

Our personality

We are	We are not	In practice
Warm	Over-familiar	Friendly and kind, without slang or forced jokes.
Professional	Corporate or cold	Expert and precise, in plain words.
Confident	Pushy	We give a clear recommendation and respect the decision.
Clear	Simplistic	Short sentences that still carry the detail people need.
Modern	Trend-chasing	Clean, current design and tools, AI included, used with care.

We are	We are not	In practice
Supportive	Patronising	We guide and encourage, and we treat people as capable adults.

Who we talk to

BUSINESSES

Owners, directors, managers and HR

SMMEs, startups, corporates, retailers, manufacturers and professional services. They want to save time and money, improve efficiency and hire people who stay, while staying compliant.

Tell them: “We find people who raise the room, and we handle the HR detail.”

INDIVIDUALS

Job seekers and working professionals

All ages and career stages. They value quality, speed, trust and a personal connection, and often need guidance, mentoring or coaching.

Tell them: “A real consultant reads your CV and matches you to roles that fit.”

LEARNERS

Teams, managers and first-time job seekers

HR practitioners, supervisors, recruiters, entry-level employees and unemployed youth who want practical, recognised skills.

Tell them: “Practical training, accredited where it counts.”

Positioning

 For South African businesses and job seekers who want more than a CV shuffle, HumanRise is the people-first HR and recruitment partner that matches on fit, builds compliance in and stays involved long after the placement.

Brand architecture

HumanRise is one master brand. Our services are described in words, not given their own logos. The Career Cat is an independent partner brand that we endorse for career enhancement.

Level	Name	How it appears
Master brand	HumanRise	The logo. Always present.
Service lines	Recruitment · HR & Compliance · Training & Development	Roboto text next to or below the logo. Never as separate logos.
Courses	Managing Workplace Discipline · Recruitment Made Easy · My Team Motivator · Workplace Essentials (WES) · Workplace Preparation	Course titles in text, written exactly as listed.
Channels	humanrise.co.za · jobs.humanrise.co.za	Our website, and our live vacancies and applications.
Partner	the Career Cat (careercat.co.za)	Its own logo in a partnership lock-up. See chapter 10.

One mark, used with care.

Our logo is a stacked wordmark: “Hum★n” above “RISE”. It is one piece of artwork. Always use the master files and never rebuild, retype or rearrange it.

Logo versions

Full colour (primary)

The default. Use it on white and on the lightest tints (Mist, Sky, Lavender 100).

White (reversed)

On Deep Rise, Star Purple, Purple 600–700 and dark, calm areas of photos.

Single colour, Deep Rise

One-colour print, embroidery, engraving, stamps and branded pens.

Black

Only when print is limited to black: newspapers, faxed or photocopied forms.

Star mark

The star on its own, for favicons, avatars, watermarks and small spaces. It never replaces the logo on a first introduction.

Clear space

X is the width of the rising I in RISE. Keep a clear space of at least 2X on every side of the logo, which is about 10% of the logo’s width. Nothing enters that space: no text, edges, folds or other logos.

On screens, never use less than 24px, whatever the logo size. In print, never less than 6mm.

Minimum size and placement

Item	Screen	Print	Note
Full logo	120px wide	30mm wide	The star’s hand-drawn line needs room to read.
Full logo, website header	72px wide	–	Allowed in headers on high-resolution screens only.
Star mark	24px	8mm	Use the avatar version (chapter 09) below 48px.

- Top left is the default position on documents, web pages and slides.
- Centred on covers, business card fronts, pull-up banners and the avatar.

- Bottom right as a sign-off on adverts and social posts, with the tagline where it fits.

Backgrounds

White is our base. Place the full-colour logo on white or our lightest tints, and the white logo on our deep colours. If you have to think about whether it's readable, it isn't.

✓ White, the default

✓ Mist #F7F6FB

✓ Deep Rise with the white logo

✓ Star Purple with the white logo

✓ Purple 700 with the white logo

✗ No full-colour logo on mid-tones: RISE disappears

✗ No full-colour logo on dark colours: the I vanishes

✗ No cream or off-white grounds: white is our base

Please don't

✗ Stretch or squash the logo. Always scale it proportionally.

✗ Recolour it, even with other brand colours. Use the versions above.

✗ Rotate or tilt it. The I rises vertically, so the logo stays upright.

✗ Add effects: shadows, glows, bevels or gradients.

✗ Place it on a busy photo. Find a calm area or add an overlay.

✗ Rearrange the parts, for example Human and RISE side by side.

✗ Retype the name in a font, or swap the star for a standard star or emoji.

✗ Outline the letters or add keylines and boxes around it.

Logo files

File (in brand/assets/)	Use
logo/humanrise-logo-colour.png	Primary logo, transparent background, 1731 × 1099px
logo/humanrise-logo-white.png	Reversed logo for dark backgrounds

File (in brand/assets/)	Use
logo/humanrise-logo-deep.png	Single colour, Deep Rise
logo/humanrise-logo-black.png	Single colour, black logo/humanrise-logo-email.png	Small file (360px wide) for email signatures
star/star-*.png	The star in five colourways (chapter 06)

i Cleaned artwork. These files remove a thin light-blue strip that showed under the rising I in the original export. The cream-background exports also carried a white block below the I, and they are retired. The PNGs are for screens and office documents. For professional print, signage or embroidery, use a vector master (SVG or PDF) exported from the original design file (see chapter 12).

Purple for the person. Blue for the rise.

Every brand colour comes straight from the logo. Purple carries what is new, fun and creative. Blue carries trust, experience and stability. Together they flow the way a career grows.

How much of each

Keep layouts light and open. Deep Rise and Ink carry the text, Star Purple is the spark (use it for what you want people to notice or press), and Rise Blue and Human Lavender add depth in small amounts.

Tint and shade ranges

Each core colour runs from white to black in nine steps. The outlined swatch is the core colour. Use tints for backgrounds and shades for text or depth.

Lavender	0	100	200	300	400	500	600	700	1000

Accessible pairings

Our website commits to WCAG 2.1 AA. Body text needs a contrast ratio of at least 4.5:1. Large text (24px and up, or 19px bold) and graphics need 3:1.

Text / foreground	Background	Ratio	Body text	Large text & icons
 Ink	White	15.7:1	Yes	Yes
 Deep Rise	White	6.3:1	Yes	Yes
 Star Purple	White	4.6:1	Yes	Yes
 White	Star Purple (buttons)	4.6:1	Yes	Yes
 White	Deep Rise	6.3:1	Yes	Yes
 Purple 500	Mist	6.7:1	Yes	Yes
 Star Purple	Mist	4.3:1	No	Yes
 Rise Blue	White	3.7:1	No	Yes
 Human Lavender	White	3.3:1	No	Yes
 White	Rise Blue	3.7:1	No	Yes

- Small purple text on a tinted background (links, labels) uses Purple 500 #5A4E8D.
- Small uppercase labels (“eyebrows”) use Star Purple or Deep Rise, never Rise Blue.
- Never rely on colour alone to carry meaning. Pair it with a word or an icon.

Colour in charts and data

Use the colours in this order so charts look the same everywhere:  Star Purple,  Deep Rise,  Rise Blue,  Human Lavender, then Purple 200 and Blue 200 for a fifth and sixth series. Highlight one series in Star Purple and grey the rest (Lavender 200) when the point is a single number.

Roboto, set clean and confident.

One typeface family does everything. Roboto is clean, modern and easy to read at any size. It is free from Google Fonts, so our team, partners and printers can all use it.

Setting rules

- Sentence case for headings and buttons: “Book a consultation”, not “Book A Consultation” or “BOOK A CONSULTATION”.
- Left-align text. Centre only short headlines on covers, banners and social posts.
- Highlight one idea per headline in Star Purple, as in “Overcoming Limits.”
- Emphasise with Medium or Bold, not italics or underlines. Underline links only.
- Keep lines between 45 and 75 characters, and use tabular figures in tables.
- Never stretch, outline or add shadows to type.

Fallbacks and everyday tools

- Web: load Roboto from Google Fonts. Stack: `'Roboto', Arial, Helvetica, sans-serif`.
- Google Docs and Slides: Roboto is built in.
- Microsoft Word and PowerPoint: install Roboto from fonts.google.com. Use Arial for files you send out for others to edit.
- Email signatures and HTML emails: Arial, because most inboxes don’t have Roboto.
- Print: send PDFs with fonts embedded.

The star, the path and soft edges.

A small kit of shapes that we can use anywhere and that still feels like us. The hand-drawn star is the hero of the kit.

The star

The star from our logo works on its own as a brand device. It is drawn as one continuous line, with two small loops that keep it human and a little imperfect. It is always an outline, never filled. Every colourway is drawn at 82% opacity, which gives the line its soft, pencil-like feel. Keep that opacity, and don't make it solid.

✓ Use the star

- as a large watermark, cropped by the edge of the page, post or card (one per layout)
- as a small icon beside values and key points
- as the avatar and favicon
- as the “a” stand-in, but only inside the logo itself

✗ Don't

- redraw, trace, smooth or “fix” the line
- fill it in, add a shadow or put it in a solid shape
- scatter lots of stars as a pattern or use it as a bullet in long lists
- spin it, or use it to rate things (“5 stars”)

The rising path

A dotted trail joins numbered markers to show progress through steps. Use it only for real sequences: how a process works, a course outline, a timeline. The trail is 2.4px Lavender 200 dots, and markers are white circles with a Rise Blue ring and a Deep Rise number.

handshake

Real people, real work, real light.

Our photos show the moments we make possible: a good conversation, a team that clicks, someone stepping into a new role. They are bright, natural and warm, and they reflect the people of South Africa.

Connection: genuine smiles and natural light

Warmth: people meeting as equals

Recruitment: calm, respectful conversations

Compliance: detail handled carefully

✓ Look for

- Diverse South African faces, ages, abilities and body types
- Real workplaces across our sectors: offices, shop floors, factories, warehouses, training rooms
- Natural light, light backgrounds and soft, true colour
- Candid moments of listening, learning and working together
- Calm space in the frame for a headline or logo

✗ Avoid

- Staged stock clichés: thumbs-up, pointing at screens, jigsaw pieces
- Cold corporate scenes: empty glass towers, suits only
- Heavy filters, dark moody grading or strong colour casts
- Too many handshakes. One per page at most.
- Visible CVs, ID numbers, payslips or any personal information

Text on images

Hire people who raise the room.

Recruitment, payroll and HR compliance, handled with care.

Put text on a calm area of the photo, or add a Deep Rise overlay that fades from 85% to 0% across the image. Text on photos is white, with headlines in Roboto Black. Round photo corners to 18px on screens.

Consent comes first. Only photograph or publish real candidates, clients, learners or staff with their written permission, in line with POPIA. Record the consent with the image. Credit stock photos where the licence asks for it.

We sound like a capable friend.

Professional, clean and modern, and always human, warm and supportive. We write short, clear sentences that lead to an action. No corporate jargon.

Four voice principles

1. Talk to people

Write to one person, using “you” and “we”.
Say people, team and candidate, not “human capital” or “headcount”.

2. Keep it clear

Short sentences, everyday words and one idea per paragraph. If a 15-year-old wouldn’t understand it, rewrite it.

3. Be warm and honest

Show empathy, especially when the news isn’t good. Never overpromise. Only publish facts and figures we can prove.

4. Lead to action

Tell people what happens next and what to do: “Submit your CV”, “Book a seat”, “Request talent”.

Tone by situation

Our voice stays the same. Our tone adjusts to the person and the moment.

Situation	Tone	Sounds like
Business owners & managers	Confident, practical, efficient	“Tell us what you need. We’ll send a shortlist of people who fit.”
Job seekers	Warm, encouraging, honest	“Send us your CV and a real consultant will read it.”
Training delegates	Motivating, hands-on	“Practical skills you can use at work on Monday.”
Discipline, investigations, CCMA	Calm, neutral, precise	“Here’s what happens next, and what your rights are at each step.”

Situation	Tone	Sounds like
Unsuccessful candidates	Kind, specific, forward-looking	"This role went to another candidate. We'd like to keep your CV for roles that fit."
Social media	Friendly and upbeat, still professional	"We're hiring in Cape Town. Here's what makes this role special."

Tagline	Overcoming Limits, in title case. Add a full stop when it stands alone as a sign-off.
Spelling	South African English: colour, organisation, programme, centre, licence (noun), enrol, practise (verb).

Dates and times	1 October 2026 · Mon–Fri, 08:00–17:00
Numbers and money	One to nine in words, 10 and up in numerals. R2 000 and R15 500 (space as the thousands separator, no space after R).
Phone	021 001 8094 locally, +27 21 001 8094 internationally.
Acronyms	Spell them out the first time: Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA), Quality Council for Trades and Occupations (QCTO), Commission for Conciliation, Mediation and Arbitration (CCMA).
Ampersands	“&” in navigation and headings (HR & Compliance). “and” in sentences.
Inclusive language	Gender-neutral titles (chairperson, salesperson) and “they” for an unknown person. No age-coded phrases like “young and dynamic” in adverts.
Exclamation marks	Rarely, at most one per post. Never in sensitive HR matters.

The brand at work.

Ready-made layouts for the things we produce most. Copy the structure, swap in your content, and keep the proportions.

Website

- White pages with Mist and Sky sections. A sticky header with the logo top left, and a single primary button.
- On mobile: a sticky bottom navigation and a floating “Book a consultation” button.
- Developers: link `brand/tokens.css` for every colour, size, radius and shadow in this guide.
- Show trust signals: POPIA, the registered company name and QCTO accreditation on the courses that hold it.

Social media posts

Square 1080 × 1080px (or 1200 × 1200px for LinkedIn). Use one message, one star and one action per post. The logo goes top left at about 22% of the width, and the white logo goes on dark posts.

Vacancy. White, faint star and a purple action. The role shown is an example.

Training. Deep Rise ground with a white logo and star.

Insight or value. Star Purple ground with a short statement.

 Caption template: a hook line, two or three short lines of detail, one call to action with a link, then #HumanRise #OvercomingLimits and up to three topic tags such as #Hiring #CapeTownJobs #HRSouthAfrica. Tag partners and clients only with their permission.

Profiles and banners

- Profile image: the full logo on white where the platform shows it at 120px or larger. Otherwise use the star avatar (star/humanrise-avatar.png), which works for WhatsApp, favicons and small app icons.
- LinkedIn cover: 1128 × 191px, Star Purple, with text on the right. The profile image covers the bottom-left corner.
- Use the same name everywhere (HumanRise) and the medium boilerplate as the bio.

Job adverts

Every vacancy follows the same structure, on our website, LinkedIn and job boards. Point applications to jobs.humanrise.co.za so every candidate goes through the same secure, POPIA-compliant form.

WE'RE HIRING

[Job title]

[Area, City] · [Permanent / Temporary / Contract] · [Salary, if the client discloses it]

About the role

Two or three warm, plain sentences on what the job is and why it matters.

Example: "Our client, a growing Cape Town retailer, needs someone who loves getting the details right."

What you'll do

Four to six bullet points, each starting with a verb.

What you'll bring

Four to six points. Keep must-haves separate from nice-to-haves.

Why you'll like it

Team, growth and benefits, as the client confirms them.

How to apply

"Apply at jobs.humanrise.co.za. A HumanRise consultant reviews every application." Add the closing date.

Compliance lines

The POPIA line (chapter 10), plus the client's employment equity statement where it applies.

Business cards

Front: the logo centred on white.

Back: Deep Rise with the white star bleeding off the corner.

90 × 55mm with 3mm bleed, on 350gsm matt board. Name in Roboto Bold 9pt, details in Regular 7.5pt. Keep text 5mm inside the trim.

Letterhead and documents

- A4 with 20mm margins. The logo goes top left at 40mm wide.
- Contact details top right in Roboto Regular 8pt.
- Body in Roboto 10.5pt (Arial in editable Word files), Ink on white, left-aligned.
- Headings in Roboto Black, with the faint star cropped in the bottom-right corner.
- The footer carries the legal name, registration number, city and the POPIA line.
- Use for proposals, quotes, contracts, policies, handbooks and certificates.

Presentations and training material

Title slide

Content slide using the rising path

- 16:9 format, white backgrounds and one idea per slide. Section dividers can use Deep Rise or Star Purple with the white logo.
- Write course titles exactly as listed in chapter 02. Show “QCTO accredited” only on accredited courses (currently My Team Motivator and Workplace Preparation).
- Workbooks and certificates use the letterhead layout with the course title in Roboto Black.

Pull-up banner

- 850 × 2000mm. Logo in the top quarter, at eye level.
- One line, three services and one photo. Nothing else.
- Website in white on a Deep Rise base band.
- Keep text out of the bottom 200mm (shown striped), which the stand and the crowd hide.
- Supply print files as vector PDFs with images at 150dpi at full size.

Linking with HumanRise.

For partners, clients, training venues, job boards and media who want to mention us, link to us or show our logo next to theirs. Thank you for representing us well.

Mentioning us

- Write HumanRise, one word with a capital H and R. Use HumanRise ZA (Pty) Ltd in contracts.
- Describe us as “people-first HR and recruitment partner”, or use a boilerplate from chapter 08.
- For credits, use: “Recruitment partner: HumanRise”, “Training by HumanRise” or “In partnership with HumanRise”.
- Please don’t present HumanRise as endorsing a product or service without our written agreement.

Co-branding

Partnership lock-up. Equal partners: logos at the same visual size, a 1.5px Lavender 200 divider, and 2X clear space around each logo.

Career coaching by the Career Cat,

in partnership with

Endorsement. On partner-led material, our logo sits after “in partnership with” at no less than the minimum size.

✓ Do

- Use our master logo files, unaltered
- Give each logo its own clear space
- Use the full-colour logo on white, and the white logo on dark colours
- Send the artwork to us for approval before it is printed or published

✗ Don't

- Merge our logo with yours or create a combined mark
- Recolour either logo to match the other
- Make our logo smaller than the minimum size, or larger than the host brand's on its own material
- Use the star on its own in co-branded work

POPIA · FORMS AND ADVERTS

By submitting your information, you agree that HumanRise may process your personal information for recruitment purposes, in line with the Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA). Read our privacy policy at humanrise.co.za.

AI USE · WHERE RELEVANT

HumanRise uses AI-assisted tools to help manage applications. A HumanRise consultant reviews every application, and no decision is made by automated processing alone.

ACCREDITATION

Show “QCTO accredited” only next to accredited courses (currently My Team Motivator and Workplace Preparation), never next to the HumanRise logo on its own.

The brand kit

Everything in this guide is in the brand/ folder of the HumanRise website repository. Once published, it lives at humanrise.co.za/brand/. For vector or print-ready files, email info@humanrise.co.za.

Folder / file	Contents
<code>index.html</code>	These guidelines (web version)
<code>HumanRise-CI-Guidelines.pdf</code>	These guidelines (A4 PDF, for print and sharing)
<code>tokens.css</code>	Colour, type, radius and shadow variables for developers
<code>assets/logo/</code>	Full colour, white, Deep Rise, black and email logo files
<code>assets/star/</code>	Five star colourways and the profile avatar
<code>assets/photos/</code>	Approved example photographs (web size)
<code>assets/partners/</code>	Partner logos for approved lock-ups

Before anything goes out.

Ten quick checks for every post, advert, document or partner piece.

- ☐ The logo comes from the master files, unaltered, with 2X clear space and above minimum size.
 - ☐ Full colour on white or light tints, white on dark colours. No mid-tones, no cream.
 - ☐ Colours come from the palette, with purple as the spark and plenty of white.
 - ☐ Text passes contrast: Ink, Deep Rise or Star Purple on white, and white on Deep Rise or Star Purple.
- ☐ Type is Roboto (Arial for email and editable files), with headings and buttons in sentence case.
 - ☐ No more than one star, used as an outline, unfilled and not redrawn.
 - ☐ Photos show real, diverse people in natural light, with consent recorded.
 - ☐ Copy is short, warm and jargon-free, and ends with one clear action.
 - ☐ Facts and figures are true and provable. AI is described as assisting people, never deciding.
 - ☐ Legal lines are in place: the POPIA statement, the registered name where needed, and QCTO only on accredited courses.

A living guide.

This is version 1.0. These items are still open and will be closed in the next update.

Open items

Vector logo master.

Export SVG and PDF versions of the logo and star from the original design file for print, signage and embroidery.

Update the master artwork.

Remove the light-blue strip under the rising I in the original file, and retire the cream-background exports. The cleaned PNGs in this kit already reflect this.

Print colour.

Match Star Purple, Deep Rise, Rise Blue and Human Lavender to Pantone references with your printer, and record them here.

Profile avatar.

The avatar uses a slightly heavier star line so it stays visible at small sizes. Approve it, or replace it with an original small-size drawing.

Registration number.

Add the company registration number to the letterhead and legal footers.

Social channels.

Confirm handles beyond LinkedIn, and add them to chapter 10.

Website alignment.

Buttons are confirmed as sentence case, which supersedes the uppercase rule in the June 2026 design spec. Small eyebrow labels on the site use Rise Blue (3.7:1). Switch them to Star Purple or Deep Rise to meet WCAG AA.

AI commitments.

Confirm that the three commitments in chapter 02 match how HumanRise uses AI today, and review them as tools change.

Version history

Version	Date	Changes
1.0	October 2026	First edition: story, logo, colour, type, elements, photography, voice, applications and partner guidance. Built from the colour palette, the website design specification (June 2026), the website questionnaire, humanrise.co.za and the designer’s notes on the logo.
